Dear parents and carers

Invitation to 'Energy Live!' Show by the Royal Institution

We are very excited to announce that the Royal Institution will be returning to Fairfield for the first time in many years. During the day, on Friday 23rd January, they will be putting on two shows for our students and in the evening, there will be a show for the wider community. The evening show will run from 6-7pm in the Sports Hall. You may arrive no earlier than 5.30pm for refreshments and to get a good seat.

The Royal Institution is a charity dedicated to connecting people to the world of science and their in-school show is called 'Energy LIVE!'. This will be an exciting audience-led show, delving into the different stores of energy and how they affect our lives. Through lively, fire-based demonstrations they will take the intimidation out of the terminology around energy and show you just how simple this subject can be. You will leave not only knowing your elastic from your gravitational but also fired up (pun intended) about energy and with a newly enthused approach to science. The Royal Institution states that this show is appropriate for all ages but will be tailored for secondary school age children.

There will be 300 tickets available, and tickets will be first come, first served, and so we recommend booking early. Although the event is free, you will need to secure your ticket on Eventbrite by following this link: -

You will be able to secure a maximum of 6 tickets per person.

Yours sincerely
